*The visual or audio portion of Creative Works has different guidelines which are separate from the general guidelines.

Thank you for your interest in submitting your work to the Jakobsen Graduate Conference! The following pages will provide you with the necessary information for you to complete the submission process.

Having your work judged by faculty members is optional. You may present your work at the Jakobsen Graduate Conference and not have it judged, if you so choose. In that case, the only requirement is to submit the electronic application. However, please be aware that you will not be eligible for any of the cash awards.

If you want your work to be judged, please be aware that all judging materials must be received by Monday, January 30th – February 13, 2017 at 11:59pm in order to be eligible for cash awards. In addition to the electronic submission, please be prepared to upload a full version of your paper online during the submission process if you are electing to have your work judged.

All graduate students who submit to the conference will be accepted. Please be prepared to present your work on March 25th. We will contact you in the middle of March with your session time and room in the IMU.

Instructions:

The following materials must be submitted by the submission deadline. All submissions, regardless of whether you wish to be judged, require the following:

1. Complete online application
2. Submit an abstract. This is both completed in a form on the application and uploaded with the online application.

Abstract/Paper Formatting Requirements:

The abstract will be printed in the conference program. The following formatting requirements must be followed. Please contact the division head with any questions.

- REMOVE ALL identifying information from your written work.
- Explain your research in a manner that is understandable to anyone outside of your specific discipline.
- Use 12-point font, double-spaced, 1-inch margins on all sides, and page numbers in the footer.

If you are planning on submitting your paper to be judged, you will need to follow these additional guidelines. Submissions not meeting these page requirements will not be judged.

- The written portion of your paper should be no longer than 10 pages. Papers over 10 pages of written text will not be judged.
- Figures should NOT be incorporated into the written portion of your paper. You are allowed up to 2 additional pages for figures (graphs, images, charts, etc.) including appropriate legends.
- References are allowed 1 additional page.
- Maximum page count is 13: 10 pages written text + 2 pages figures + 1 page references.
Quick Checklist for Your Submission:

To Present (but not be judged):
1. Electronic Submission
2. Abstract

To Present and Have Your Paper Judged:
1. Two items above AND your full written paper must also be submitted during the on-line submission process.

Additional Suggestions for Submissions

Three faculty members, selected from various areas within division disciplines prior to the conference, will judge each submission. Please be aware that while we will attempt to find the best judges for your submission the faculty members reading your materials may not have a background in your particular area of study. The submission will be judged on the criteria presented in the information above. It is strongly recommended that your paper follow the submission criteria as closely as possible.

Presentation at the Conference

You will be receiving the schedule for presentation of your talk or poster the middle of March. You WILL NOT be judged during the day of the conference. However, audience members will have the opportunity to provide you with written feedback. Oral presentations are 15-minutes in duration. This allotted time INCLUDES time for questions if you so choose. An in-room moderator will ensure all presenters follow the 15-minute time limit. Dress for this conference is business casual.
